

RECOMMENDED READINGS

For the N.C. State Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board Licensing Examination
Revised 10-10-06

EFFECTIVE FOR THE MAY 2007 EXAM

- Distance Learning for Professionals in Hearing Health Sciences (Fourth Edition)– this is a self-paced independent study program which includes 29 quizzes based on 3 of the required textbooks above. $195.00, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Hearing Instrument Science and Fitting Practices
Edited by Robert E. Sandlin, $74.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Outcome Measures and Troubleshooting
By Julie Purdy and Chester Pirzanski, $24.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Introduction to the Auditory System, Edited by Phyllis Wilson, $24.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Altering Behaviors: A Powerful Approach to Aural Rehabilitation , $24.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Masking: Practical Applications of Masking Principles and Procedures
By Linda L. Donaldson, $24.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.

(the above 6 books can be purchased together in a package with a 15% discount for $314.2)

- Digital Signal Processing for Hearing Aids By David A. Preeves, $19.95, Available at www.ihinfo.org website.
- Chapter 93D of the General Statutes of North Carolina. This statute may be obtained from the Board's website.
- Title 21 of the N.C. administrative Code, Chapter 22. These rules may be obtained from the Board's website.
- FDA Regulation 21 CFR 801 (effective February 15, 1977), Subparts 801.420 and 801.421. This federal regulation may be obtained from the Board's website.
- FTC Regulation 16 CFR 429.0 and 429.1. This federal regulation may be obtained from the Board's website.

- N.C. State Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board Continuing Education Policy and Forms. The Board's current policy and forms may be obtained from the Board's website.
- N.C. State Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Board Advertising Guidelines. The Board's current advertising guidelines may be obtained from the Board's website.

-For all books available at the International Hearing Society website, you do not have to be a member to purchase the books, simply go to the website, www.ihinfo.org, look on the left side of the page for the "Store" and chose "Textbooks"